

What do you think about our school district?

JOIN THE CONVERSATION MARCH 6TH AND 8TH.

- Tell us what you think about our schools
- Give us feedback on educational priorities
- Listen, learn and share your ideas
- Join with other community members to forge a shared vision for our district's future

“IN FOCUS” is a public outreach effort by the Bedford Central School District. Its goal is to engage district residents in conversations about educational priorities and the future direction of our schools.

All community residents are invited to join us for any of three town hall forums on March 6th and 8th.

WHAT WILL THESE PUBLIC FORUMS BE LIKE?

After informational presentations by school district leadership, attendees will participate in activities designed to gather opinions and foster further discussion. All residents, including young adults, are encouraged to attend. Feedback gathered from these sessions will be used to help set both short-term priorities and long-term goals.

MUST I HAVE A CHILD IN BEDFORD CENTRAL SCHOOLS?

Absolutely not. We hope to gather district residents from all sectors of our community, not just public school parents.

WHAT IF I CANNOT ATTEND?

There will be other opportunities to provide your input. We value your opinions and hope you will make every effort to participate in any way you can.
